

Harmony in Compliance Benefits

'...the moment we began using Harmony the entire feel of our compliance programme changed. From highly charged and antagonistic to controlled and relaxed - Harmony has empowered us and we are grateful...'

IT Director,
UK Service Sector company

Improve the efficiency of your processes

- Reduce admin time by streamlining and automating your existing processes.
- Track progress automatically and all at once, saving you time.
- Consistent workflow across different processes means shorter learning curve and easier working.
- Avoid duplication and errors through automated processes and efficient control.
- Track progress easily and quickly and all at once saving you time and reducing the number of status meetings.
- Communicate quickly and efficiently with comprehensive and pinpoint reports.

Save time and costs

- Reduce administration and processing time because everyone involved in process improvement can see all they need, when they need.
- Reduce auditor fees by having all information in one place, easily accessible and simple to appraise.
- Cut the costs of 're-compliance' because the dynamic nature of Harmony makes continuous compliance simple and the subsequent round of compliance much less painful and costly.

- Automatic notifications inform process and control owners of key activities and at each stage and on state changes.
- Inter-system messaging allows users to communicate with each other and to raise issues or concerns in a direct, auditable and immediate fashion.

Improve communication across the compliance process

- Enhance collaboration between the standard owner and each control owner.
- Make it easier to share information by using integrated messaging.
- Automatic notifications inform all interested parties of changes in control status, and changes in the status of issues, risks and actions related to controls.
- Automatic reminders for impending control non-compliance with countdown timers and escalation.
- Manage ongoing and continuous compliance by taking advantage dynamic controls monitoring, messaging and alerting.
- Include a broad range of users with cross-business roles and responsibilities directly into your compliance environment to enhance the compliance view and understanding of everyone involved.

Improve security and accountability

- Industrial strength security with SSL where required.
- All users have unique log-in details with comprehensive, administrator-controlled access rights and permissions.
- Increase accountability through a robust audit trail.
- Unique auditor options to assist the audit process, raise awareness of audit activity.
- Comprehensive system of ownership and responsibility significantly raises transparency and accountability.
